ORANGE (SKIN CONTACT)

Skin-contact wine, also known as orange wine, does not refer to a particular grape, but to a winemaking process that results in orange-hued wine. It may be tangerine colored, straw yellow, or mellow like honey. A skin-contact wine is a white wine that's made in the style of a red wine. Whether you be new to orange wines or a long-time fan, there a wine for everyone on our list of by the glass options.
